Governor Appoints Police Chief to North Carolina 911 Board. June 8, 2010

Governor Perdue has appointed Jacksonville Police Chief Mike Yaniero to serve as a member of the North Carolina 911 Board.

The Board develops the 911 State Plan, administers the 911 fund and the monthly 911 service charge, and distributes revenue in the 911 Fund. The Board also establishes policies and procedures to fund advisory services and training, and investigates revenues and expenditures.

“The 911 system is the gateway to emergency services and it is important to our state to be in front of emerging telecommunications technologies. I am looking forward to the opportunity to serve,” stated Chief Yaniero.

The appointment is effective immediately with a term to expire on June 30, 2012.
